What PHCC is:

The Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors Association (PHCC) is the premier trade association for plumbing, heating, cooling, and HVACR professionals in North America. We've been advancing the industry since 1883 by providing advocacy, education, training, and best practices to contractors of all sizes and types.

Our Mission:

PHCC is dedicated to the advancement and education of the plumbing and HVACR industry for the health, safety, and comfort of society and the protection of the environment.

This mission expresses three closely connected purposes:

1. Support members' business success:

- Through education, training, resources, and connections that help contractors run their businesses more effectively — from technical skills to leadership and profitability.
- Through networking and community (chapters, ESGs, events) that help members share best practices and grow professionally.

2. Represent the industry's voice in government and regulation:

- PHCC advocates at federal, state, and local levels on issues that affect contractors' businesses — taxation, licensing, workforce development, codes, and regulation — so contractors can focus more on serving customers and less on threats from outside our industry.

3. Elevate professionalism and public recognition:

- PHCC promotes ethical standards, professionalism, and quality — so when consumers see the PHCC logo, it should signify a contractor committed to expertise, integrity, and industry-recognized excellence.

Bottom line: PHCC exists to strengthen both individual contractors and the quality and reputation of our entire industry. That includes helping you run a better business, advocating for your interests, elevating standards, and making sure consumers can confidently choose qualified professionals.

If we can distill it into one idea for prospects:

PHCC helps professional plumbing, heating, and cooling contractors be smarter, stronger, and more trusted — in their businesses, in their communities, and in their industry.
